

The ASA supports your reference to [it] under point 8B. In particular, the suggestion that the regime takes account of the ASA's remit when guarding against regulatory gaps is welcome.