

Brian Viercant

Dear Sir/Madam, thank you for the opportunity to put my point of view on what I consider a topic of national importance. How can we in a democratic society ignore the wishes of the silent majority and allow those with the wealth and influence to wreak havoc in terms of Privacy on the ordinary person living in the UK. It would seem the Press and other media have Carte Blanch at deciding what where and when, and these influences are supported by the Monsters [REDACTED] [REDACTED]. There has to be some kind of support for what is right and what us wrong, and the fact that Levenson hasn't been fully implemented proves the outside influence of those who can an do feel that they have autonomy over anyone else.

Surely in this day and age, freedom is a price that we should all enjoy, and we should be reverting back to an age where thugs, war barons, and the like feel they can tread in anyone that they feel they want to and without any form of control. Thank you for this opportunity to allow me to add my voice to those of normal everyday people, Thank You