

Dear Sir/madam

I am a member of the public (a retired hospital consultant) and am writing to express my concern that the press still seem to be claiming to regulate themselves – ineffectively as it seem to me. Given their past record and the commercial drivers of the press this is unlikely to change if left in their hands. I feel strongly that Leveson’s recommendations should be fully implemented with the establishment of a statutory backstop regulator.