

Hi,

Parliament must act to bring all of our press into line with the recommendations of the Leveson enquiry.

Also there must be free access for all, to take liable action against the press, if there is a case for them to answer.

The press are very powerful and have too much influence over our democracy.

I agree with the principle of a free press, but power can and does corrupt.

Regards

Graham Pickup