

Until the conditions of the Leveson Report have been implemented, I will continue my boycott by refusing to buy ANY newspaper or periodical magazine. If the press wishes to remain under their own regulatory sham and ignore the public's will, then let their reducing circulations, profitability and shrinking readership continue until they cease to print.

I am able to obtain news and features electronically and find that my personal attitudes, rather than the opinion of vested interest editors is more relevant.

Regards

Harry King