

To whom it may concern:

The press is largely Tory owned and so the two will continue to conspire to weaken Leveson as much as possible. The power of the press is still huge and they must be accountable as other professional bodies are. The Leveson Inquiry cost the tax payer and took hours of interviews and and deliberations to produce a report which we are still waiting to be implemented, and which from your quote, Leveson envisaged would be held back and denied/watered down. Thank you for pursuing this.

Jill Govier