

If the Press try to veto the Leveson recommendations for self-regulation, action to counter this should be taken by Parliament by creating a statutory regulator which will adopt his recommendations. Let Parliament do its job if the Press won't.

Dr Neil Richmond