

Dear Panel,

I believe that you are considering what to tell parliament about the next steps regarding proposals for regulation.

I would like to register my view that it is essential that we have some form of press regulatory authority. Past evidence shows that sections of the press cannot be trusted to regulate themselves, so some form of statutory authority, such as that proposed by Leveson is essential.

Many thanks

Nick Lee