

It is a disappointment to me that the press have failed to accept any format of independent press regulatory body. The main players continue to ignore Impress in the hope that they can yet again get away with a pretend regulatory run by themselves for the benefit of themselves.

Don't let them get away with it or we will be back where we started from.

Ron Mallinson