

Dear Sir/Madam

This Autumn, the Press Recognition Panel (PRP) – set up to assess whether self-regulators meet Leveson’s criteria – will have to report to Parliament on the state of the press regulatory system. IMPRESS is not recognised), and that all significant publishers remain outside it.

My inescapable conclusion is that the big newspapers have rejected this system.

Regards

Tony Nolan