

Press regulation should be overseen by a public body and should not be a self regulatory system. The system that we have now should be replaced and the original call for a system that works should be heeded and changes should be made.

kindest Regards

Trevor Kight