

Dear Sirs, David Cameron said he would implement the Levinson Report unless it was bonkers. But like all politicians he and all other public figures you are frightened of alienating the press so why not for once tell the truth, but you won't because you lack courage and integrity. Please surprise me and act with integrity.

Yours faithfully

William Marley