Dear Matt

Thank you for your letter and for IPSO's continuing interest in our work.

I have noted your comments regarding Evan Harris' email, our annual report on the recognition system and the conclusions you have drawn.

Our Board has not yet made any decision about future funding nor have we had any discussions about this with government, or, for that matter, any other party.

We will be launching our charging consultation in the New Year. We will feed your comments into that in due course.

Yours sincerely

Susie
