

My thoughts...

The sanctions required to be available are not restricted to fines, corrections and apologies as set out in the criteria but should also include the power to require the publication of the outcome of an investigation and apologies of an equal size and prominence to any original error.

All the best,

Jamie J