

Dear Sirs,

The major newspapers have clearly rejected the proposed regulator IMPRESS. Would you please inform Parliament of this and urge the Government to consider the need for a statutory regulator.

It is now also clear that the proposed guaranteed access to justice incentive is needed, if Parliament's original intention is to be met. Section 40 of the Crime and Courts Act should be brought into effect, regardless of whether you recognise IMPRESS.

Yours,

Andrew Jakeway