

I do hope that Parliament is not going to ignore Leveson's recommendations & expect that we - the British pleb classes - are going to forget about it all....

A government of Eton millionaires is preferred by the Press-baron billionaires - whilst us pleb classes (who will never see a million quid in our lives) feel that the UK's press has far too much power without responsibility (that's those of us who are not mesmerised, ogling at Page 3...)

I do urge the PRP to recommend to Parliament & the government that Section 40 is commenced asap, as it is integral to the recognition & incentives system.

Thank you.
