

Would you please implement all the outstanding recommendations of the Leveson Report as speedily as possible. The Press cannot be relied upon to regulate itself and needs an independant watchdog to monitor it. If the press wish to publish contentious material - it can take expert legal advice - as before - and/or face legal action - as before.

Brian Weaver