

Dear Madam/Sir

It has come to my attention that the wonderful report by Leveson has so far not resulted in any type of satisfactory press control. The press obviously want to carry on as before Leveson.

So I suggest that Parliament set up a committee to review the situation by 1st August and report by 1st September 2016.

Parliament should then bring a Bill before the House that allows all UK citizens to bring complaints to a new, powerful, group, which can award people very large sums of money to be paid by the papers concerned.

All members of the public will receive full legal costs as part of the compensation.

That should solve the problem quickly.
