

The UK public were duped by unscrupulous press barons. They were gutter press. The truth is always important, but the means of obtaining it must always be legitimate

Gerald Hunter